---

REQUIRED CHALLENGE

The challenge is to create a few images - at least two blog post images and at least two brand images. Your images should look similar to Toontown Rewritten's website and social media promotional images. The content of the images and the story behind them is up to you. Be sure to reference our existing blog post and brand images for the style and tone of how the final image should look. However, the final result must be crafted fully of your own work, in-game images, or through assets we have provided.

- Blog Post Images - Almost every news post on the Toontown Rewritten website contains an image tailored to that post. In order to complete this challenge, create two news post images that could be used on the Toontown Rewritten blog. Use in-game screenshots and cut them together to create two different scenes.
- Brand Images - Our social media accounts utilize images for promotion, announcements, updates, etc. Create two images that could be paired with two different social media posts with the intention of engaging followers.

Extra Details:

- All images should be 1200px by 675px.
- You should include a text explanation for each picture to explain what you did and why.
- You should only use the fonts included in the zip file linked below.
- You must include a minimum of 4 images - at least 2 for each type of image.
- You must use custom poses in at least 2 of your 4 images. A custom pose is a pose made by cutting, pasting, and fitting together different angles, body parts, props, and/or shapes from multiple screenshots of the same or different animations.
- You must have anti-aliasing turned on when you provide your challenge images. Anti-aliasing helps smooth out the edges of in-game models to make them look better and to make cutting out images easier. The higher the number, the smoother the appearance. However, if a higher number causes your game to lag, you can use a lower number as long as it's still on. Please state what value (such as MSAA 8x) you have your anti-aliasing set at in your descriptions of your challenge images. In order to enable anti-aliasing, go to your Options menu in-game, then go to the Video tab, find "Anti-aliasing," and set it to your desired value.

Assets to help you with the images, such as fonts, backgrounds, and logos, as well as examples for each type of image, can be found at this link. You are also free to use any other assets on our website or from the game if you wish.
